Description of Urgent Funding Program	The Scholars at Risk Network (SAR) is an international network of higher education institutions responding to attacks against scholars because of their words, their ideas and their place in society. Those seeking power and control work to limit access to information and new ideas by targeting scholars, restricting academic freedom and repressing research, publication, teaching and learning. SAR promotes academic freedom and defends the human rights of scholars and their communities worldwide.
Geographic Areas Covered	Global
Types of Recipients	Professors, lecturers, researchers and other intellectuals
Types of Support	SAR partners with network members to create temporary academic positions, enabling scholars to escape dangerous conditions and to continue their important work. In return, scholars contribute to their host campuses through teaching, research, lectures and other activities. The details of positions vary, depending on the individual scholar's situation and host institution. In addition, SAR provides legal referrals, advice, speaking and networking opportunities, career resources and other assistance to scholars in need and undertakes public and private advocacy on behalf of scholars who are missing, detained or in prison.

Restrictions	Projects are only eligible if there is a digital emergency situation. This type of grant will not support projects addressing digital security issues that are more structural in nature.

12. Rory Peck Trust

Contact Information	Mailing address: Linton House 24 Wells St London W1T 3PH United Kingdom Phone: +44 (0) 20 3219 7860 Fax: +44 020 637 4585 E-mail: assistance@rorypecktrust.org Web source: http://www.rorypecktrust.org
Description of Urgent Funding Program	Through the Freelance Assistance Programme, the Rory Peck Trust provides financial and practical assistance to freelance newsgatherers in crisis worldwide, and to the families of those who have lost their lives, been seriously injured or are suffering persecution, exile or imprisonment as a result of their work. The Trust prioritises assistance that will enable the freelancer to overcome a crisis and to become self-sufficient, and it is one of the few organisations prepared to renew its grants should this be required.
Geographic Areas Covered	The Freelance Assistance Programme works worldwide. There is a dedicated programme officer or researcher for the following regions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Sub-Saharan Africa</li> <li>• Eurasia and Afghanistan</li> <li>• South Asia (Pakistan, India and Bangladesh)</li> <li>• The Americas and the Caribbean</li> <li>• Middle East and North Africa</li> <li>• Southeast Asia and Asia Pacific</li> </ul>
Types of Recipients	Freelance news-gatherers including journalists (print/online), camera operators, videographers, photographers, translators, fixers, stringers and drivers. The Trust also supports their families and dependents.
Types of Support	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Financial, practical and moral support, advice and referrals</li> <li>• Training bursaries to enable freelancers, who otherwise could not afford it to undertake safety training courses</li> <li>• The Trust collaborates with local and international partners to run small-scale, region-specific projects that protect and educate freelancers</li> </ul>
Fund Request Process and Response Time	Typically, the applicant has to complete and return an application form (available in English, French, Spanish, Arabic, Russian and Turkish) with a letter of reference from a media outlet, non-governmental organization or partner of the Trust confirming the status and situation of the freelancer. Other supporting documents may be required depending on each particular case. The average response time is on a case by case basis. The Trust has an emergency protocol in urgent cases of assistance and can provide expedited assistance.
Restrictions	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The newsgatherer must be freelance in need.</li> <li>• It must be safe for the beneficiary to be contacted and to receive funds.</li> </ul>

Description of Urgent Funding Program	The Lifeline provides emergency financial assistance to at-risk civil society organizations, so that they may continue or resume their work, and supports targeted, time-bound advocacy campaigns to respond to threats or attacks on civil society.
Geographic Areas Covered	Global
Types of Recipients	Civil society organizations (CSO), defined as a group of two or more activists, are eligible for support if it has come under attack as a result of its activities. They do not need to be officially registered but must be able to document their history of activism. The Lifeline supports a variety of CSOs, many of whom conduct advocacy, promote and protect human rights, and/or act in a watchdog capacity.
Types of Support	The Lifeline will support CSOs with small, short-term emergency grants for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Medical expenses</li> <li>• Legal representation</li> <li>• Prison visits</li> <li>• Trial monitoring</li> <li>• Temporary relocation / Rest and Respite</li> <li>• Security Equipment replacement</li> <li>• Other urgent expenses</li> </ul> By definition, emergency assistance is finite and given to address a time-sensitive threat. An emergency may constitute the need for more than one type of assistance, i.e. medical and legal, or prison visits and equipment replacement.
Fund Request Process and Response Time	Applications may be submitted by a referrer on behalf of a CSO or by the CSO directly. Please provide as much detailed information as possible on why emergency aid is needed. The Lifeline receives applications via Martus, a secure database software, and via e-mail at enassistance@gmail.com. Lifeline strongly recommends the use of Martus or encrypted e-mail, such as PGP or Hushmail, and we can assist you in setting up secure methods for communication. Lifeline reviews all applications to determine if they meet the eligibility criteria and if the requested funds are justified. In this review, we need to verify independently the information provided by the applicant.
